Course Policies

Attend Class

Attendance will be checked after the starting bell. Only those who are in the class by this time will be considered present. If you are absent in the previous session, secure an admission slip from the Registrar's office. Students are expected to have read and prepared for the day's activities.

Build Rapport

Be courteous at all times. When emailing your teachers, use appropriate language and tone. The official line of communication is through email and googlechat. All messages to the teacher beyond 5pm shall be entertained the next working day.

If you have trouble keeping up with the lessons, requirements or other aspects of the course, make sure to let your teacher know as early as possible. Building rapport and effective relationships are key to becoming a well-adjusted student. Be proactive in informing your teacher about your difficulties so that they can help you find a solution.

If you are a student with a disability requesting reasonable accommodations in this course, please inform your teacher right away. You are encouraged to discuss the issue with your teacher in a private consultation.

Gadget/ Device Use Policy

Gadgets/ devices are used when the teacher allows the class to do so. Ask permission from the teacher before you use your devices for academic or emergency purposes. Permission is also sought for documentation of class activities. Posting in social media is discerned guided by the data privacy act.

Commitment to Integrity

As a student of Pisay, you are expected to maintain a behavior becoming of a scholar; a deep commitment to active learning and participation and to integrity in and out of the classroom. All materials shared by your teacher and /or your classmates (such as, but not limited to original written work) with you are not to be shared with anyone outside your section. Let us respect privacy and intellectual property rights.

Academic Dishonesty Policy

Academic dishonesty includes cheating, inventing false information or citations, plagiarism and helping someone else commit an act of academic dishonesty. It usually involves an attempt to show possession of a level of knowledge or skill that the student does not really possess.

Teachers have the initial responsibility of detecting and dealing with academic dishonesty. Teachers who believe that an act of academic dishonesty has occurred are obligated to discuss the matter with the students involved and their parents. If a teacher is convinced by the evidence that a student is guilty shall file a report at the Discipline Office. The report shall include a description of the alleged incident, any relevant documentation and any recommendations for action that she deems appropriate.

----- AGREEMENT -----

I have read and understood the course requirements and classroom policies of my VE1 class, and I will comply and abide by these as expected of a PSHS Scholar.
